"I See For You"

Louis "looks" again - - - - - 20 years ago, Louis (Mystic, of the Louis Foundation on Orcas Island, Washington) graciously answered people's questions in a small publication from Oklahoma, his column was called "I See For You", that activity lapsed after a few years, and many people across the country have sorely missed the spiritual insights that came through Louis' answers to personal questions of all kinds His comments had both delightful wit and food for thought

Each of us is searching for TRUTH, we may encounter difficulties in grasping the meaning of "POSITIVE" and "NEGATIVE".

We must remember that a general term requires careful interpretation. A negative attitude implies doubt, fear, hopelessness, a static situation. We sometimes look askance at the word "POSITIVE" because it could represent a form of over confidence or optimism. However it also stands for thinking and action in very new and constructive ways.

WE hear the statement a lot lately that as a nation we are "sick". This is a rather wide statement, and really should not encompass every one! It can really only be considered in the light of where each person stands. Where each person is coming from. A person is a complex thing. Many qualities make up his being. Religion is just as complex, probably more so.

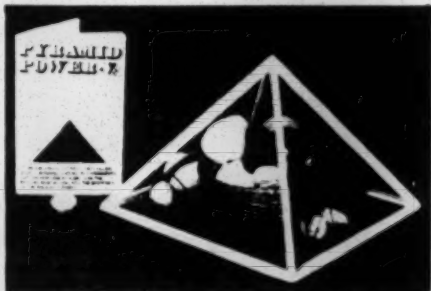

Positive thinking gives us a goal, a place to head, a place to study and grow. It also opens the doors to new information, a step in the direction of truth. Truth is not found in books. I used to think reading books would give me truth. Truth comes from finding the answers from within. Reading books helps one find his own understanding, helps a person seek new doors. Each individual gets different answers from the books he reads from the lectures he attends, from the people he meets and associates with in life. From there he gets the beginning nudge toward going within and finding the truth. Reading can make you aware of what you yet need to learn. Times are getting tense, and people are reacting about each other. They are reacting about organizations. They are reacting about situations around and about them. To find the answers each of us must go within and seek the truth of things for ourselves. Truth is an individual thing. No man can tell you this is the truth. Yours must come from you. Make this your year to find the "truth"!

THE SPIRITUAL DESTINY OF U.S.

REV. KINGDON L. BROWN

EDITORS NOTE: Because we at Uni-Cpm felt that the contents of a lecture given by Rev. Kingdon L. Brown in San Jose during a lecture tour in October of 1975, was so important, we have included that lecture here, so that you, our readers may benefit.

"We are at a very special time, so let us begin by asking ourselves the questions that any thoughtful person might ask.

Is someone really trying to kill the President? Was Patty Hearst brainwashed? Are there UFO'S that will some day come down and scoop us up to take us away from this strange mixture of pleasure and pain, good or bad?

I suppose any thoughtful person would ask himself these questions - not because he expects to get an answer to those questions initially, but behind those questions lies a state of mind. It may not be the American psyche that creates the situation in which questions like that must be asked - and we could go down the list over the last several years and add questions. But, fundamentally, when we look at events around us we say to ourselves, 'What's happening? What are people thinking about? What motivates them? Is there some widespread illness - or health - which creates a response that somehow strikes deep within some individuals that causes circumstances to form where questions of that kind are germane to our everyday thinking? Not germane to something taking place a thousand miles away, two thousand, five thousand, the earth itself -- but here'. I think there are some explorations that we owe ourselves with respect to what is taking place, what might take place, and what has already happened.

If you'll think back for a moment on the way you began to determine as a child what was truth, you will recognize that the process of education from the very earliest years is a process of determining what reality is--what the Truth is, what the Truth may not be, what can we really believe, how should we live. This becomes the Truth: we become conditioned to understand the world through our perceptions of what we accept to be so. Ah, but a strange thing happens. As we continue to grow physically and mentally and spiritually, changes take place, emotionally they occur, intellectually, conceptually, and suddenly the simple idea of what we thought was really true is subject to question. And we say to ourselves maybe what we thought was so, even maybe the aspirations that we had are not completely valid any more. And that's disturbing to us! And furthermore that process of deconditioning occurs a number of times throughout a life span if we are growing. If we are stagnate and rigid and unmindful of our own inner tension, unmindful of spiritual dimensions beyond the physical, then it's very easy for us to establish a truth within us which lasts all the way through.

What this means, then, is that there is automatically built in, for the person who intends to grow--and growth ultimately is a spiritual trip, a spiritual journey--there are periods of disillusionment in which the truth becomes unlearned, and it's precisely at those times of inner confusion that we are susceptible to a new truth, a new perspective, a new way of looking at ourselves, this new philosophy, can be applied to us from the outside. We look for someone to tell what it is. We look for THE BOOK which contains the final answer. We look for THE SPECIAL GROUP where everybody truly loves. Yet in the process of reprogramming ourselves with a new version of the Truth, we sometimes overlook the fact that the truth must come as a creative endeavor from within us. We must begin with the resource which we have within us--some good, some bad, some indifferent. Psychics, sages, and philosophers down through history have told us that, and it's strange, in a way, that some times we don't yet get the point! We think there's going to be THE BIG ANSWER--out here, and this, then explains recent events. It explains why some people will say, "Ah, I want to go to that Utopia. I want to follow that Messiah. I want to leave my responsibilities and my problems and my hassles and my misunderstandings and my broken promises and my greed and my hatred and my jealousy and my everything behind, and go. What they're really saying when they contemplate such a thing is that they want this big answer from outside them. And if you know anything about Karma, or anything about psychic phenomena, or even about basic psychology, you know that what we have to deal with is to evolve within the situation in which we find ourselves, because freedom is not freedom that is granted to us because we do something to achieve it. That's the old consciousness, written up in an Aquarian context. The old consciousness was, 'This is the truth, kids, and these are the things to do. Right? Got it? Oh, you missed? These are the things not to do. Now if you do the things you are supposed to do, and you don't do the things you are not supposed to do, there is no problem that you can face that will overwhelm you. Just listen to me. Don't think for yourself. We've got it all figured out, because we have a direct line, you see, to up there'. Now that's the old consciousness. And if the direct line happens to be a flying saucer, or a violent anti-social act, or a spiritual master, or some other technique of bizarre overindulgence, so what? It doesn't matter. That's the old consciousness. And that's the thing that perplexes people, because they say, 'If I'm going to find out what the truth is and how I might respond to life and to the world around me, I've got to have something tangible that tells me what it is because I don't want to figure it out for myself.' And the minute they've done that they have abdicated freedom of thought, freedom of inquiry, freedom of expression, freedom of philosophy all of the things which those strange individuals in Philadelphia a couple of centuries ago worked into our system of life.

In other words, when we all ourselves to give up the responsibilities we have for working out our own evolution, we have given up the freedoms which we cherish and possess, and we are subject to control and manipulation by the people who have what they think is the truth.

So we have, then, a situation in which we are conditioned throughout life to see new dimensions and new perspectives of Truth, but they only become meaningful to us as we generate them and build them from within ourselves--and that's the key.

When you see something occur, and you don't know what it means, and you don't know how to approach it or judge it, suspend judgement temporarily. And if you will go within through our own quiet time and your own meditation and your own reflection, there will be a point of divine essence within you which will tell you, authentically, what is so. And you don't need to get it from out there. And isn't it strange that that is precisely the message which we have heard over and over again. !

There's something a little more to it. The reason we want to get the truth out there, through observation and through intellect, is that for most of us we develop value systems which suit individual circumstances--work, marriage, school, spirituality--you name it. Everything has a different value system. And the problem with our accelerating consciousness as we move in the New Age is that these convenient cubicles in which we put our values, are no longer independent of each other. So if you think this about work, and something entirely different about relationships, and you think this about school education, this about politics, and so on, and if they mutually contradict--which inevitably they will-- then you have a problem, because your way of life--the amount of education you are subject to, the amount of exchange you have with other people, the amount of communication going on--does not ally you to hold mutually contradictory value systems. They must be consistent. And since they usually are not consistent, it means that the person under stress --and this is the key word--is, again, subject to control or manipulation by someone or something which purports to level all of these contradictory value systems and make them consistent.

There are many spiritual organizations which recognize that if they are going to succeed they must be powerful. And, as you know, power comes in many forms. Basically, the definition of power is the ability to bring about the result you decide upon. That's power. There are different methods of doing that. If you are able to determine a goal for yourself, for example, and move through various degrees and steps and stages where you achieve the goal which you have set for yourself, that's power. The element of predictability is involved. And there are spiritual organizations which will take your freedom from and give you a system which they say is true in order to control and to dominate you because that is power. Many people do not realize that many spiritual organizations which, on the surface appear to be very good, have a second or third purpose that is not on the surface, which ultimately ends up being that you are under the control and domination of the organization, which can justify giving you any mission. It can justify severing you from your family. It can justify severing you from your spouse. It can justify having you determine that everything you thought before was wrong. These are all very subtle hypnotic techniques, and anyone who has ever been involved in interrogation or intelligence work is very familiar with these techniques of mass hypnosis and pressure in groups. And it's something to beware of when exploring new spiritual concepts and philosophies, because it's easy to work step by step in order to achieve control and in order to convert spiritual objectives to other kinds of objectives! If you think spirituality and politics are divorced, forget it! There is a connection in every country in the world between religion and politics.

Lets look back to the history of the founding fathers of this country. If you want to get a clue to the history of the founding fathers and some of the philosophy that they used in order to come up with this country, you can look at the money--first of all. Our money is replete with symbols that come from the freemasons and the Rosicrucians, which come, ultimately, from ancient Egyptian mystery schools, and perhaps before that they came from Atlantis, suggesting to us that these crazy men in Philadelphia were not just stupid farmers. They were not just people who lived in log cabins trying to figure out how they were going to survive the winter, they were sophisticated, educated men, many of them affiliated into secret societies that teach the same things that new age people are studying today. Only today they are no longer secrets. The Great Seal, for example, has an eagle on one side. The original design was to include a Phoenix Bird who in ancient myth lives for 500 years, and at the end of that time is consumed in fire and from the ashes will arise a new civilization. It was changed, conveniently, to an eagle.

On the other side of the seal we have an adaption of a Masonic emblem, a pyramid with 27 stones showing, topped, not by a central stone at the top which you might expect, but topped by a single all-seeing eye, the 'Third Eye', the eye of wisdom--the idea being that the Phoenix Bird on the first side represents immortality, eternity, resurrection, a new birth, because it was felt in the ancient mysteries that when a person achieved the wisdom he became a new person, and it's this promise of being a new person which is part of the tradition of these crazy men who met in Philadelphia (For further information on the Great Seal & the Bi-Centennial refer to the July-Aug. 1975 issue of the Uni-Com Guide.) The pyramid also has this eye within a triangle, which as you know has many many significances in mystical lore, and the eye, itself represents the capacity of the individual to surmount all difficulties of life, which the pyramid represents, and unify his essence with the essence of the Divine--a very simple idea, but certainly way beyond the time of orthodox religion, which was basically the religion of the colonist.

These ideals are the ideals this country is based upon, and it was the inspiration, which caused George Washington, Benjamin Franklin, Thomas Jefferson, and many other signers to come up with the documents which formed the country as we found it (continued on page 28)

THE WORLD-MIRROR OF YOUR SOUL

RUSS MICHAEL

Your world is quite literally your soul made flesh. The fleshy body that you manifest faithfully reproduces, atom for atom, your inner self. You reflect you at every level of your being. You find yourself physically, emotionally, or mentally an equivalent reflection of nature, in the three dimensional world that we share.

The time has come for you and me to stop blaming the world, the other person, the employer, the employee, the politician, the businessman, the social worker, and so on endlessly for our problems! Every crisis that we face, moment to moment, day to day, has sprung up before us because it is a true reflection of our soul.

The world is your mirror of your soul. Every thought and feeling that flows through you shapes and aligns the direction of the most minute particle, electron, neutron, positron, and so forth, of your being. The very place that you sit at this moment, absorbing the content of these words, reflects your soul. The entire world mirrors you! Your general or specific mood, your dreams and visions, or lack of them, your apathy or consciously directed motion, form the very roads beneath your feet, the skies overhead. You will find yourself in a particular city, or countryside, or in a specific State or Country, on a warm, cold, sunny, cloudy, calm, or stormy day because that place and that time reflect you!

The foregoing statement could be extended infinitely. You are not only a certain nationality, a certain racial type, a male or female, but you are on this planet Earth, not Venus, Saturn, Jupiter, and so on, because "Earth consciousness" reflects you better than any other. You are on this Earth in this solar system, in this galaxy, in this three dimensional Universe (at a personality level) because these "spacial points" reflect you more perfectly than the solar system of Sirius, or the Andromeda Galaxy, or some timeless, spaceless universe where more advanced souls than you or I are developing... at this "moment point" in time.

Certainly there are definite pure essences of soul differentiated from the physical body, but the point should be obvious. If you and I are genuinely interested in knowing what kind of souls that we are, that can be determined accurately with a few moments reflection.

Open your eyes, right now, to the world at your immediate fingertips. Are you in attractive surroundings, or otherwise? Are you healthy and in good shape physically? Are the clothes you wear clean and pleasant for others to look at? What kind of fulfilling work do you do? What do you do with your leisure time? What do you think about most of the time? What is your general mood or "feeling tone" most of the day? What do you think of your friends? What do you think of the world in general? Do you have all the friends that you want, all the tools, money, energy to be as creative as you desire? What do you live for, day to day, moment to moment, week after week? These are all pertinent questions if you truly wish to know your own soul. The answer to these questions hold the secret of your soul...but the secret is out! Look about you, the answer is obvious.

Your world, the point in space that you occupy NOW is your world, and it mirrors your own soul exactly! It can be no other way. Form must conform to consciousness, for consciousness is the essence of every soul. The form that a soul "wears" at any level of existence in our world, physically, emotionally, or mentally, must be, is an identical duplicate of its soul at that level. You and I are mirrored in every world of reality that we find our existence within.

The world is a mirror of your soul, so if you do not like what the world reflects back to you at any given moment, change your image NOW...start smiling instead of frowning. Think, feel, and act "higher" instead of "lower". Turn each crisis or existing problem into a "creative challenge". Change your consciousness! Let the golden, radiant light of your divine soul reflect through you every day in every way...and the world at your fingertips will change.

Your surroundings will become more attractive. Your health will improve. Your physical body will resume its natural eye-pleasing symmetry. Your clothes will be clean, neat and attractive. Your work will be fulfilling, far more in keeping with your natural aptitudes and interests. Your play time will be joyous, refreshing both the body and spirit within. Your thoughts will be lofty, yet down to earth, geared toward practical implementation and world service. Your mood will be high, joyful and light, though serious about personal responsibilities. You will love and appreciate your friends, and they will love you. You will find the world to be an interesting field of challenges and awesome beauty. You will be surrounded by "spiritual family". The equipment, funds and personal vitality you need will be yours at will. You will live with great joy from moment to moment, day to day, week after week, for you know that the future is yours! How else can it be otherwise? The world is your reflection! How does it look to you? May the brightest you shine through!

May the heavens open and pour down a great divine flow of Light, Love and Power, into your life, into the lives of your loved ones, and into your work. So be it.

TWELVE GOOD REASONS TO BUY THIS HOROSCOPE

1 This horoscope is about you — your life. That is something to take seriously. The Astral Portrait by Para Research provides an in-depth psychological approach to astrology. Not light reading. It won't provide easy answers to your problems. But it will serve as a guide to a better life.

2 It's the only horoscope to make a 300 word comparison of your Sun and Moon signs: the relationship between your conscious drives and your unconscious feelings

3 Other horoscopes often omit the ascendent because it requires the exact time of birth. It tells a lot about how you approach life. It is an important part of your Astral Portrait because it includes the position of your first house and the interpretation and placement of the ruling planet.

4 It's the only horoscope to give you a house-by-house analysis. Your outlook on life. Sex. Friends. Relatives. Responsibilities. Attitudes. How to communicate. How you work.

5 It's the only horoscope with 300 words or more on each planetary aspect. Not just favorable or unfavorable ones, but each and every conjunction, sextile, square, trine, inconjunct and opposition. These aspects are character traits determined by the angular relationship between planets at your birth.

6 It's bigger and better than ever. 15,000 words in over 35 pages. Besides the above you get lists of each planet in its sign, each aspect, famous people with the same Sun sign as yourself. Also explanatory text on how to read and understand your horoscope.

7 You get precise calculations that only a computer can provide without error. From exact time, date and place of birth our IBM 370/155 sorts out 24,000,000 bits of astrological information objectively, and without bias.

8 No waiting. No searching for good astrologers. No appointments to make. Processing begins the day we receive your order. It is personally prepared and checked for accuracy. Within ten days it is mailed to you first class.

9 It's not like the simple sun-sign astrology found in newspapers. It's more complex. It's personal. It's one-of-a-kind. As no two people are alike, no two Astral Portraits are alike.

10 All this is yours for only $10. A better value than ever before. New improved, expanded text. Despite increasing production costs it's still the same low price.

11 It's America's foremost computer horoscope. Written by the best professional astrologers. Programmed by expert technicians. Developed by Para Research, the fastest growing company in computer astrology. Recommended and sold by the nation's major astrological associations.

BOOKS OF INTEREST

There is a lot of wisdom and plain truth packed in twenty-one little pages. For anyone not finding financial abundance working for them, Barbara Klein's insights could be enlightening.

While money is a universal experience and expression, some people seem to benefit from it, while others are hurt by it. Money, as all things from God (for all is God) brings increase. The determining factor is our consciousness in handling money. And it should be noted that "increase" does not necessarily mean more dollar bills.

Increase is not a promise of good. We can by our own choice set the stage for an increase in what we do not want. We can affirm the negative, which we all profess to dislike. Or we can affirm the positive, blessing ourselves and all others we contact.

When we spend money, we show outwardly, what inwardly we affirm. And this expenditure may bring us happiness and joy, or disappointment and distress. By our handling and use of money, we show our present state of consciousness. Some people buy themselves a pocket full of guilty feelings, disappointment or distress.

We should look closely at what we purchase with our money, even our giving to our favorite charity. For if we give or spend beyond our finances, we will experience a feeling of lack -- and that is what we will set in motion to be increased. Giving (spending) must be done freely and without reservation from what you have to give.

It takes a real talent to manage abundance, to set in motion "good" increase. Wealth is moral. Wealth is mental. Money is an outward picture reflecting the factors within. Money has a potential for spiritual rewards. The rewards depend on how we use what we have, rather than how much there is of it.

Klein, Barbara Ruth. MONEY CAN BE A SPIRITUAL EXPERIENCE. Hayward, Calif. The 6th Sense Publishing. 1960.

at that time. The curious and strange thing about this is that now the rest of us have 'caught up', and suddenly realize and glimpse the fact that when we talk about the Aquarian Age, or an age of illumination, an age of new consciousness, an age of the mystical union with the Divine Essence, we are talking about the very same concepts which these early Rosicrucians and Freemasons used as part of their normal working philosophy.

If you can accept the idea, physically that we have a state of consciousness which receives and sends simultaneously, you have the key to what is taking place today, for there are some individuals--you and I, perhaps--who are aware of this heritage and are aware of the beauty of this thing we call 'free'-liberation, freedom. And as co-creators with the Divine, we receive and send simultaneously. Those of you that have studied some of the mysteries realize that this is the explanation for the auric field. It's a very simple idea. But it's a key idea, because it explains why some people can move into a new state of consciousness comfortably, through their own evolution in time and space and why other individuals must operate in the dark, must be ignorant of the truth that lies within them. There is also a psychic law, or theory, that where there is Light, illumination, liberation, understanding, depth of communication, capacity to be, there will be attracted, for a time, an equal amount of darkness. This is another way of stating that there's Good and Evil. So when you have an individual, or a group, a church, a school, a philosophy, which brings forth new light from the ancient wisdoms, brings forth new light and beacons it out for the liberation of those in the darkness, there is automatically a counter-reaction from those in the darkness. So when you have a new age of thought, of electronics, of travel into space, an age of parapsychology, an age of freedom, an age in which individuals can relate in ways that were forbidden, you have last group of the ignorant--the young souls, who believe the only way is domination, is rigid thinking, is terror, is violence, is corruption, etc. And so when you read that people are very taken by the idea that they can go into the mountains or unto the desert and that some beings in a beautiful ship will come down and take them, you must stop and realize that this simply a reflection of this last grasp of the last age. I'm not saying that we should not go on saucers, and I'm not saying that they don't exist, but I'm saying that there's something in the psyche of people who will give themselves over to something blindly in order to resolve the problems and responsibilities. The one thing we need going into the Aquarian Age as a nation and as coming together it's self responsibility. I can't work out your Karma. You must do your thinking for yourself! You can't allow people out there in the darkness to overtake you and your own commitment to the truth as you see it. Remember this: everything that Hitler did was legal. The key was that in the capture of the minds of his people, he did it a step at a time. Step by step. And these forces which are negative, which are ignorant, do not want the light of this country to penetrate the world, can work effectively STEP BY STEP. And one of the best places to begin, is in religion.

This country will perform its spiritual destiny, which means that the soul of the country, which is the soul of its citizens will be manifested, but it will not be manifested without struggle, like responsibility. 'You say there must be an easy way'. There isn't. There is no Nirvana, no cosmic consciousness that can be activated within you by someone else. That's the way they think. This is conflict. There is a way to deal with it. There is a way to help this destiny become manifested as we move through the next 200 years and into the Aquarian Age.

Since this the (the) age of the psyche, an age of thought--it's not an age of reason; it's an age of intuition and creativity--, the antidote to these forces that are destructive--and there are destructive emotions, destructive relationships and intentions and so on--the antidote to that is to be a channel, an instrument, a vehicle, a medium for the good to reach out to those around us--it can be just a very small circle or a large circle. To operate from the internal reality, which is where the transcendental, eternal values are, that capacity will slowly push these forces back. You don't need to go anywhere and and say 'I have the answer'

I mentioned earlier about certain spiritually oriented groups that purport to give you total complete mind control--as they see it--if you will give up your freedom. Remember I made an emphasis of that. And until you read the diabolical methods--basically authoritarian hypnosis methods--they're used in religious conversion and in political conversion, and they're not secret, really. If you'd like to read about it go to the library and read any book by Andrew Salter on hypnotic theory, and you will see that stress is a part of the conversion process, because when a person is under stress he's confused, and he's receptive at that point, to change.

At a recent lecture I gave, I discussed this subject at great length, and from the audience came a young man and his wife who had just escaped, really, from just such a situation, he stood up and was nice enough to tell of his experience. The following is what happened to this young man.

THE YOUNG MAN'S EXPERIENCE

'About four weeks ago we were on the Berkeley campus, and this particular religious group approached us. We're open-minded and think of ourselves as truth seekers, which, looking outside of ourselves did tend to get us into trouble. We were walking around looking for some one to tell us what the truth is.

A group of clean cut, well dressed people a little younger than myself approached us with lots of love in their eyes; they call you Brother, Sister, shake your hand; they hug you, and extend an invitation to lunch. And what do you do? Your hitchhiking around the country, you don't have all that much money, and you take advantage that you can. When somebody offers you lunch, you--you know. Over lunch these people gave us an idea of what they were about, to myself and other people that were also invited to lunch. It was the same old metaphor of, 'Well we believe that God is like the elephant, he is different to each blindfolded man. Well we feel this is what religions are all about.'

Well this went right along with what I had believed for years. I had taught Yoga for approximately four to five years, and I am sure that most of you know that it means 'unity', and so of course, unity of all religions and all philosophies is an ideal that perhaps I have been seeking.

Next we are invited to dinner. The start of the step by step process is taking place. We go to dinner, and there is some lecturing on a little bit deeper picture about the principles they follow. Every thin very smooth. It's all what my idea of what God is all about, and it's just great. Then they invite us to their farm.

We're whisked off--this is where it began to get a little bit heavy--we're whisked off my wife is ushered into a separate car than I, with everyone else, I think, in her car being a person who is more experienced than this particular family or group. I am ushered into a car also with three other people who are very much into it, have an older experience with the situation--and what I now believe to be more brainwashed than I happened to be at that particular time. We ride up to this farm in Mendocino County, we're singing religious songs, and I'm really getting high on it. They know a lot of really great songs, and were just brothers, and we have our arms around each other and just--oh we love each other, and we love the world, and all that.

I'm wondering how my wife is doing, because she was a little bit taken back that suddenly we weren't together. We get to the farm. Were not allowed to speak to each other, because they don't want us to have any negativity, because you're not supposed to share any negativity. That's a sin. But then on the other hand, by not sharing any negativity, it is supposed to die away, and your supposed to accept what your told.

The next morning you wake up, and you're ushered from one place to another--rush, rush, rush. Your always being chaperoned by one person who kind of knows and lead you away from circumstances that are going to pull your mind, or fragment your mind away from the unifying of your will and your consciousness into this group will, and this is the taking away of your will. It's a very subtle thing, and I can say that--a person would go there, and they would think, 'Well how can someone be so gullible as to drink a glass of poison?' You know what I mean? But this step by step 29 procedure--first you're given a glass of apples juice, then you're given a glass of orange juice, and you begin to trust the people, because its given in love. And then, maybe, there's a little bit of strychnine put in with it, and a little bit more, and the dose builds up, and suddenly you're sick.

All day long, everyday your convinced that this is the way, and there are lectures that are logical presentations of six thousand years of biblical history. It's all put together in such a way that, yes, this is all true. This divine revelation is a revelation from God. By the end of the week you feel like, "Yeah, this must be truth", you know. It's pretty hard being ushered around, not being able to talk with my wife, and now I am beginning to hear words like, "Well, when you move into a house with the rest of the family, you'll probably consider your marriage dissolved." because in this divine revelation all marriage are in the past, all family ties, even blood tie that have with your real mother and father are considered irrelevant and external, and all this is left behind. Of course you know the bible Jesus says you must leave behind, your father and mother and this and that and follow me. Bible quotations are taken out of context to support this whole program. It's a very powerful thing. There's a lot of love going on, but its kind of like a mask. You're forced to open your heart. And that's a good thing, because everybody wants to grow.

Question: Did they allow sex there?

Young Man: No. In fact you're not--say you feel a warm feeling toward somebody, you see that God in a female, they see the God in you, and maybe you embrace, you really feel that God energy, but that's not allowed either--only touching hands.

Question: Would that be accused of fornication?

Young Man: You're not "accused" of anything. That's too direct. This is subtle. It's a step by step thing where ultimately you feel such an intense guilt about humanity--the original sin--that you take it all upon yourself, and you're just guilty, guilty, guilty, and until you relieve this divine revelation as your truth--when you receive their truth as your truth, your will turned completely over to them, all of your possessions, everything. Everybody wants to leave the responsibility to someone else. It's an ideal thing for a lot of people.

By the end of the week they reveal to you, after all the building up, that right now in this day and age there is a Messiah walking on earth--the second coming of the Christ, and if you don't accept it and bind with it in this new age, which is--they call also the age of attendance, where you must attend and serve this person, then you're out of the picture. You don't have salvation, on the physical plane--the kingdom of heaven on earth--plus you don't have salvation in the spirit world. Eventually everything will be brought into the kingdom of heaven, but who wants to wait 10,000 years for you to work out your Karma through somebody existing in this plane? This is the whole idea. Plus, you are made to feel responsible for all your ancestors.

Everyone there was experiencing different amounts of stress in one way or another. Stress being pulled away from family, stress being pulled away from possessions--most of us are still attached to a few of those, too--stress physically. Many of the people were nauseated and having diarrhea, tremendous stress. Up late at nite and up early in the morning to practice songs in lyric, all of which was programming to present their principles. When you went to bed at night it had been beaten into your brain so that was all you could think of. And it became, "Yeah, this is my place, I guess, because I'm told it is."

Question: What happens to your children?

Young Man: Well your children are--you're encouraged to leave your spouse--because it's a sinful relationship. And since that responsibility would tie you down and fragment all of your inner energies to where you could not put full effort to their cause, then the ideal thing is to leave them with someone else. If you can't do that then the children are all put together--communally. And people are assigned for that ministry.

Question: Didn't that give you a clue?

Young Man: We only found this out later. They don't tell you those things. We only found out by observation. You're not told a lot of things, I still don't know everything about it. And after a while I didn't know what was right. I didn't know what was going on. They tell you "become like a little child--and accept all the truth, just like Jesus told you".

Rev. Brown: Can you tell how you extradited yourself?

Young Man: You're advised to pray and search in yourself to find out if this is truth or not, but you're not really given time to do this. So in the short prayer periods that come your supposed to write to people and tell them that you are not coming back. You're told to leave behind your previous spiritual experience. This is the real way. What it's really all about. After two and a half weeks, and after feeling a desire to leave-- We've got to get out of here--we've got to get a perspective." You see your mind is falling apart, You want to let go, because you realize you must die and be reborn, but how are you going to die and what are you going to be reborn to? I was praying all the time for greater and greater clarification. I said "Lord let me know the way". I was on the point of tears, when I met my wife--she had the same feeling. I said, "Well let's get our back packs and get out of here. If somebody starts talking to you, don't listen to them".--because we tried it before, and they just kept passing you on to a more powerful personality until your resistance is completely worn down.

It was getting dark. They said "Why don't you stay one more night? You have to wait until this next lecture to talk with this guy". "No, we don't want to." "But you've got to". You know the world is at the kingdom of heaven is at hand. If you don't stay, you're going to be very sorry. You're going to have to repent four thousands of years, you'd better stay. But we had to leave. Of course the gate around this thing was barbed wire fence--about 8 feet high. It's a regular fence, and then there's barbed wire at the top, like a concentration camp. That's the main gate. You could go off back in the hills and "escape" through a lower barbed wire fence, but they didn't even come out to unlock the gate for us. That's another discouragement, because you really can't leave. But while working in the fields--that's another part of your duties there. They pay them so much money to stay there and go through the lectures and everything plus you work in the fields, and I mean--it just all pressed up until you had kind of a sick feeling inside--All I knew was that I believed in God and that he must care for me more than to let me go down into some hole, and sure enough, we got out of this little gate out by this apple orchard, and we walked off and then hitch hiked back to San Francisco.

I'd like to say one more thing, and that is the whole time I was praying for greater and greater clarification, and a person who was also undergoing this same thing--there are lots of them, new people everyday, there all giving them selves over, it's thousands of people. They have families, now in over a hundred and twenty countries, so this is no light thing.

Question: What is the purpose of this group.

Young Man: Well, it's a number of things. First of all, in a ways it's financial because they are supporting a lot of other activities. They say the reason for the whole thing is to build the kingdom of heaven on earth. It starts with the individual. You give yourself over, and then through the individual after a while, once you become perfect, you can have a family--after the Messiah tell's you its cool. Yeah, you know it takes a long time to become like Jesus or somebody else who's really perfect, but the idea is that in attendance you will become perfect. O.K., then you have children, and the the ideal situation is a family thing, and then it becomes a social thing, the whole society becomes this way, and the United States is like a pivot point, you know in history. We have the power. This whole country is based on "Dedicated to God".

Rev. Brown: And so you see this is the step-by-step method that is being used to control people to hypnotize people without their realizing it. This is a powerful way of gaining control of what ever you wish to gain control of. Look, Listen and be careful when you select a group or organization to become affiliated with. And remember your own free will! Never let others determine for you. (No wonder...)

The Art of The Cosmos, is a beautiful experience of blending colors and images that touch a deep spiritual awakening within each student. Work is done with the hands, no brush or pallet, using techniques that have been developed over many years. When the hand comes in contact with color a very strange and wonderful feeling is in store for the student . . . Classes are usually conducted with a background of music. The student has the opportunity of learning self awareness, creativity and spiritual advancement through these techniques! Personally conducted classes Lectures
